

Coloring Page: Shirdi Sai Baba

Instructions: This page has been formatted for coloring on either the computer (using software such as Microsoft Paint) or on paper (just click “Print” on the top menu of this screen). If you get stuck, there are examples of colored pages on the website! Try to learn the story of each picture as you go along.

Shri Shirdi Sai Baba is considered an incarnation of Lord Dattatreya, who is the all-encompassing form of the Holy Trinity or Trimurti (Lord Brahma, Lord Vishnu, and Lord Shiva). He lived in the small town of Shirdi in Maharashtra, India, and was beloved by many devotees for his teachings of love and righteousness through texts of both Hindu and Muslim religions. He believed in self-realization and inner peace, and preached teachings that combined Hinduism and Islam. Baba taught the saying “shraddha aur saburi,” which mean faith and patience. He believed that inner peace could be attained by self-realization, forgiveness and charity.